

Black Leadership Advisory Council: Sarah Bryant

Name: Sarah Bryant

Title: Key Account Rep

Location: Louisville, Kentucky

Date of Hire: September 2020

Why did you choose to participate in BLAC?

I am honored to be chosen to participate in the council that I believe will make a difference in the RNDC and Young's culture and the industry as a whole.

What do you hope to accomplish as a member of BLAC?

As a member of the council, I hope to further the diversity and inclusion efforts of RNDC and Young's. I hope the council becomes a strong voice in rooms that may have lacked diversity in the past.

What is your vision for current and future Black professionals?

I want Black professionals to feel comfortable and supported in their positions, to have the ability and confidence to grow in a company and to feel heard and appreciated sincerely and genuinely.

Why does representation matter to you?

Representation matters to me because I have often been the only one in the room. Whether it has been the only woman, or the only black woman, or the only black person, it happens way too often. Additionally, companies are often put in situations that could have been avoided by having more diversity in the room. We all have room to listen and grow on many fronts and that is why representation is important. A person does not know what they do not know.
